

Advice for Driving in Adverse Conditions.

In wet weather, stopping distances will be at least double those required for stopping on dry roads, this is because your tyres have less grip on the road.

In wet weather.

- You should keep well back from the vehicle in front. This will increase your ability to see and plan ahead.
- If the steering becomes unresponsive, it probably means that water is preventing the tyres from gripping the road. Ease off the accelerator and slow down gradually.
- The rain and spray from vehicles may make it difficult to see and be seen.
- Be aware of the dangers of spilt diesel that will make the surface very slippery.
- Take extra care around pedestrians, cyclists, motorcyclists, and horse riders.

When driving in icy or snowy weather

- Drive with care, even if the roads have been treated.
- Keep well back from the road user in front as stopping distances can be ten times greater than on dry roads.
- Take care when overtaking vehicles spreading salt or other de-icer, particularly if you are riding a motorcycle or cycle.
- Watch out for snowploughs which may throw out snow on either side. Do not overtake them unless the lane you intend to use has been cleared.
- Be prepared for the road conditions to change over relatively short distances.
- Listen to travel bulletins and take note of variable message signs that may provide information about weather, road and traffic conditions ahead.

Romance scams involve people being duped into sending money to criminals who go to great lengths to gain their trust and convince them that they are in a genuine relationship. They use language to manipulate, persuade and exploit so that requests for money do not raise alarm bells. These requests might be highly emotive, such as criminals claiming they need money for emergency medical care, or to pay for transport costs to visit the victim if they are overseas. Scammers will often build a relationship with their victims over time.

Signs your friend or family member may be involved in a romance scam:

- They may be very secretive about their relationship or provide excuses for why their online partner has not video called or met them in person. They might become hostile or angry and withdraw from conversation when you ask any questions about their partner.
- They may express very strong emotions and commitment to someone they have only just met.
- They have sent, or are planning to send, money to someone they have not met face-to-face. They may take out loans or withdraw from their pension to send money.

How users can stay safe from romance scams:

- Be suspicious of any requests for money from someone you have never met in person, particularly if you have only recently met online.
- Speak to your family or friends to get advice.
- Profile photos may not be genuine, do your research first. Performing a reverse image search on a search engine can find photos that have been taken from somewhere, or someone, else.

It is important that no matter how long you've been speaking to someone online and how much you think you trust them, if you have not met them in person, it's important that you do not:

- Send them any money.
- Allow them access to your bank account.
- Transfer money on their behalf.
- Take a loan out for them.
- Provide copies of your personal documents such as passports or driving licenses.
- Invest your own money on their behalf or on their advice.
- Purchase and send the codes on gift cards from Amazon or iTunes.
- Agree to receive and/or send parcels on their behalf (laptops, mobile phones etc.)

How to report it

If you think you have been a victim of a romance scam, do not feel ashamed or embarrassed - you are not alone. Contact your bank immediately and report it to Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or via actionfraud.police.uk.

Help Stop Rural Crime

Rural properties and farms can be a target for thieves because they are isolated.

Expensive power tools, quad bikes, machinery, and diesel can be very attractive.

Here are some simple steps you can follow to prevent these crimes from happening:

- Lock doors and windows.
- Use an alarm system.
- Install CCTV.
- Use security lighting.
- Consider fitting tracking devices.
- Mark and register your tools and equipment.
- Secure vehicles and equipment.
- Don't leave keys in vehicle ignitions.
- Lock and hide fuel tanks.

Crimes are occurring in every area across North Devon, please be extra vigilant at this time check your property and report any suspicious activity you might come across.

Dial 999 When there is a crime happening, someone is in danger, a suspect for a serious crime is nearby, or there is a risk of serious damage to property.

Dial 101 or complete an online form, When you are reporting a crime not currently in progress, give information to the police about a crime in your area, or speak to the police about a general enquiry.

We try to help whenever we can, but we're not always the best people to call in every situation

Abandoned cars and anti-social parking are dealt with by local councils.

Untaxed cars need to be reported to the DVLA.

Lost or found dogs should be reported to the local dog warden.

Noisy neighbours need to be reported to the council's environmental health team.

Always check our website to make sure you contact the right people, first time:
